Waldeck Road is very near to Kew Bridge, which is where the A205 South Circular becomes the A406 North Circular.

By Public Transport

(From Waldeck Road – turn left out of the house walk to the end of the street. Cross the footbridge over the train line and continue walking straight ahead (right angle to the train line – not along the line). At the T-intersection, turn right into Wellesley Road and continue along until you come to pedestrian crossing on the bridge. There is a small lane on the left hand side that runs down the side of the BSI car park. Turn down here into the station.

British Rail: Take the Hounslow train from Waterloo station to Kew Bridge (five minute walk). Turn right out of station and cross at traffic lights at Kew Bridge. Turn left onto Strand on the Green/Thames Road which runs along the river. Take the third left turn into Pymont Road and turn right into Waldeck Road.

Bus: 391, 237, 65 to Kew Bridge (North Side). Turn left onto Strand on the Green/Thames Road which runs along the river. Take the third left turn into Pymont Road and turn right into Waldeck Road.
